
Sans Pareil

Sage Commentary

Yogi Berra: “If you come to a fork in the road, take it.”

(anonymous graffiti): “Use logic—go wrong with confidence.”

Ann Landers (headline over inquiry from New York cabdriver): “Hacking proves hard way to make a living.”

Maurice Wilkes: “A man does not buy a quarter-inch drill—he buys the expectation of a quarter inch hole.”

Nat Wartels (advice to new book authors): “Go to every book store you can, and sign every book in the store. Then they can’t send them back.”

Henry Ford: “If it is in a book, it is at least four years old, and I don’t have any use for it.”

Webster’s New Collegiate Dictionary (consecutive entries): “rig-ma-role ... 1 confused or meaningless talk ... rig-or ... 4 strict precision: EXACTNESS<logical ~>”

—Gary Lindstrom