■ Dear reader,
 LINK, a Springer service, has offered you electronic access to journals, books, series, experts systems, search engines, external databases, etc. for over five years.

You have certainly already visited the «European Archives of Psychiatry and Clinical Neuroscience» in the internet at www.link.springer.de and not only read abstracts or articles from this journal, but have also received an impression from LINK about its further offers.

Every month LINK attracts more visitors, which currently offers access to the 481 journals of the publishing group.

This chart illustrates the monthly accesses in the year 2000 to the respective internet pages, the abstracts, and the full text versions of the «European Archives of Psychiatry and Clinical Neuroscience», whereby the last item is accessible cost-free only for the subscriber of the hard-copy version.

We are pleased that you have used LINK and have thereby verified our efforts.
